PRINCIPALS AND ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS OF THE YEAR

Dr. Lowery introduced Debbie Drown, Executive Director of the Maryland Association of Elementary School Principals (MAESP) and Scott Pfeifer, Executive Director of the Maryland Association of Secondary School Principals (MASSP) to recognize school leaders.

Ms. Drown thanked the Board for recognizing the excellent work done by school leaders in Maryland and thanked Dr. Lowery for attending the MAESP Executive Board Meeting. She noted MAESP’s appreciation for the Department’s collaboration with MAESP to have its members represented at conferences and on committees. She said, “We really, truly appreciate that.” Ms. Drown also announced that she would be retiring on June 30, 2015.
Ms. Drown introduced the MAESP Principal of the Year, Susan Myers of Walter S. Mills-Parole Elementary School in Anne Arundel County and Assistant Principal of the Year, Ronald Wooden, Jr. from Havre De Grace Elementary School in Harford County. She reported that they will go to Washington, D.C. and participate in an excellent program and meet other principals from across the country.

Ms. Drown shared portions of Ms. Myers’ application and noted that Ms. Myers mentored and helped three teachers to become leaders. She said, “Growing leadership among the staff is important. Her knowledge of how to improve a school is second to none.”

Ms. Myers said, “I am honored to be here before you…being nominated was extremely gratifying.” She recognized her superintendent, Dr. Arloto, for being so supportive of the principals in Anne Arundel County. She said, “I am so proud to be in a career that I can have an impact on students. Thank you for your recognition.”

Ms. Drown reported that Mr. Wooden has been promoted to Principal of Havre De Grace Elementary School noting that he is a person who truly deserves this honor. She said that he believes in the power of words and ignites the passion in his staff and students.

Mr. Wooden said, “This is an honor to sit before you to share my passion. This award is not for Ron Wooden -- it is for our students. Thank you for recognizing the hard work that our teachers do across the state. I truly appreciate it from the bottom of my heart.”

The Superintendent read a Proclamation from the Governor declaring October Month of the Principal and said, “Congratulations to our visionary leaders.”

Mr. Pfeifer said, “Thank you for allowing us to honor these wonderful leaders.” He noted that there were a record number of applications received this year and that the selection process is very rigorous. He introduced Larissa Santos, Principal of Edgewood High School in Harford County: Susan Evans, Principal of Ridgely Middle School in Baltimore County; and, Dyan Harrison, Assistant Principal of Gaithersburg High School in Montgomery County who were selected as Principals and Assistant Principal of the Year.

Mr. Pfeifer said that Ms. Santos’ leadership has increased the pride of her school and that Ms. Myers took a great school and made it better. He also noted that she has been named as a finalist for the National Principal of the Year. Mr. Pfeifer said that Ms. Harrison exemplifies what an Assistant Principal has to be.

Ms. Santos thanked the Board for this recognition and related her path to becoming an educator, stating, “I recognized the tremendous impact that education makes on students. This award is for my parents, the staff and Harford County. I just had the good sense to get out of the way and let my students succeed.”

Ms. Evans introduced her family members in attendance and said, “Our success at Ridgely Middle School is based on relationships. We are a National Blue Ribbon School and we continue to meet high levels of excellence. We had more than forty after-school groups and activities to form relationship for students.” She said her school has succeeded because she is able to hire people smarter than herself.

Ms. Harrison said, “I am honored to be here this morning representing Gaithersburg High School. I wanted to make sure that all students recognize their dreams through equity and access to be whatever they want to be.”

Dr. Dukes summarized the comments made by the recipients and said, “We have the best of the best here in the State of Maryland. We are very proud of all of you. You represent colleagues across the State of Maryland.”

Dr. Gates said, “I was humbled. Schools have to be child-centric. If we look good, it’s because you folks make us look good.”

Mr. Priester said, “On behalf of students...we can tell when there is an excellent administrator. Your efforts are noticed by every student in your school.”

Ms. Staton said, “How very very lucky we are to have you leading our schools and our children. When you use words like hope and believing...that is key to our success. You inspired me today.”

Dr. Finan said, “The difference a positive leader makes made a positive effect on me. When you give hopes and dreams to students, it makes a difference.”

Ms. Sidhu thanked the group on behalf of their communities and said, “You make the community better.”

Mr. Smith said, “I know where you are coming from. It all goes back to trust and relationships. I have been in the schools. Keep up the good work. It makes us proud.”

Photos were taken and citations were awarded to each honoree.

COMAR 13A.12.01 GENERAL PROVISIONS

Dr. Lowery introduced Jean Satterfield, Assistant State Superintendent, Division of Educator Effectiveness, to discuss additional changes to COMAR 13A.12.01 General Provisions proposed by the Professional Standards and Teacher Education Board (PSTEB). She explained that the Board has the opportunity to convene a Joint Conference Committee with PSTEB, if it so desires, for further study of these proposed amendments.

Ms. Satterfield explained that this Board and the Professional Standards and Teacher Education Board (PSTEB) already reviewed these regulations at an earlier meeting and that there was an error in the publication in which a section was omitted. She explained that the PSTEB made additional proposed changes and voted to republish the regulations. Ms. Satterfield reviewed the additional proposed changes.
Dr. Gates expressed concern about the definition of STEM education on page six. Mr. DeGraffenreidt suggested that the comment period will reflect any concerns from stakeholders.

Ms. Satterfield said, "We have had a lot of time to work with our stakeholders. We have vetted these with our human relations people and they feel very comfortable."

Ms. Eberhart asked if the PSTEB made any major changes to teacher certification. She said, "Certification is somewhat different than teacher preparation. We are going to a dual road to credentialing between professional practice and student growth.

Ms. Satterfield noted that private school teachers are not judged on the same criteria as public school teachers and earn a license rather than a teaching certificate. She added that there are regulations about program approval.

Dr. Lowery said that based on Ms. Eberhart’s comments, a simultaneous conversation is needed although she noted that the Board must work through the P-20 Council on teacher preparation. She invited Board members to attend meetings of the P-20 Council to provide divergent thinking to the group.

Dr. Dukes noted that a Joint Conference Committee Meeting with PSTEB can only deal with the wording in the General Provisions.

Ms. Kameen said, "You may need a Joint Conference."

Dr. Lowery urged the need to create a committee with people who think outside the box and said, "When we re-convene a different committee, we can come up with a timeline for your approval."

Mr. DeGraffenreidt urged, "We have to begin with the right questions. What does success look like?"

Dr. Gates said, "I would appeal to the Board to look at the issue of what is in COMAR and the important statement for our State. When you start asking questions, you can ask without constraints. We need to be clear in-house."

Dr. Dukes recommended that the Board request a public meeting with PSTEB to determine where there is some agreement on these issues and then go to the Governor’s P-20 Council with recommendations.

Upon motion by Professor Gates, seconded by Mr. DeGraffenreidt, and with unanimous agreement, the Board voted to request a meeting with PSTEB in public session. (In Favor – 10)
COMAR 13A.03.05 ADMINISTRATION OF HOME AND HOSPITAL TEACHING FOR STUDENTS (PERMISSION TO PUBLISH)

Dr. Lowery introduced Kristina Kyles, Assistant State Superintendent, Division of Student, Family and School Support, and Michael Linkins, Counseling Specialist, to present proposed amendments to COMAR 13A.03.05 Administration of Home and Hospital Teaching for Students. She recommended that the Board grant permission to publish the proposed amendments.

Ms. Kyles reported that the proposed amendments:

1. add nurse practitioners as health professionals who may verify the need for home and hospital instruction services;
2. require an annual re-verification for students who receive concurrent delivery of instructional services instead of re-verification every 60 calendar days; and
3. add emotional conditions, such as depression and bipolar disorder, to the provision for concurrent delivery of instructional services.

Mr. Linkins explained the reasoning behind these proposed changes which were delineated by doctors, parents and coordinators to make the administration of home and hospital teaching for students more accessible and efficient.

In response to a question by Ms. Staton, Dr. Lowery said that the term “emotional” is a technical term used to describe a special education condition.

In response to a question by Dr. Finan, Mr. Linkins said that a Nurse Practitioner can operate independently where other health care professionals must work under the supervision of a licensed medical doctor.

In response to a question by Ms. Sidhu, Mr. Linkins said that six hours of instruction per week is a minimum and that some jurisdictions provide as many as four to five hours per day of instruction and noted that the program is moving toward online instruction.

Upon motion by Ms. Diaz, seconded by Mr. DeGraffenreidt, and with unanimous agreement, the Board voted to publish the amended COMAR 13A.03.05 Administration of Home and Hospital Teaching for Students. (In Favor – 10)

COMAR 13A.04.08 PROGRAM IN SOCIAL STUDIES (PERMISSION TO PUBLISH)

The Superintendent introduced Dr. Henry Johnson, Assistant State Superintendent, Division of Curriculum, Assessment, and Accountability;; Graham Long, Social Studies Specialist, MSDE; and Donna Olszewski, Social Studies Specialist, MSDE. She asked them to present proposed amendments to COMAR 13A.04.08 Program in Social Studies. She recommended that the Board grant permission to publish the proposed amended regulations.
Dr. Johnson discussed the objectives and new focus of the Maryland College, Career, and Civic Life State Standards for Social Studies (C3) and how they align with the Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts and Literacy.

Ms. Olszewski reported on the Maryland State Curriculum for Social Studies adopted in 2006 and the College, Career and Civil Life Framework for Social Studies State Standards adopted in 2013 noting the major change will be made to the current Standards 6.0 Skills and Processes which will now incorporate all of the process skills from C3. Connections will be made to the Maryland College and Career Ready ELA/Literacy Standards.

Mr. Long reported that teachers will now be required to:

- craft questions that spark and sustain an inquiry;
- cultivate and nurture collaborative civic space;
- integrate content and skills purposefully;
- promote literacy practices and outcomes; and
- provide tangible opportunities for taking informed action.

Dr. Johnson noted that Mr. Long worked on the high school assessment and will make sure that the standards align with the assessment.

Mr. DeGraffenreidt said, “I like what you are proposing. To what extent is teacher preparation needed to make this change? To what extent are teachers going to be ready for this?”

Ms. Olszewski reported that conferences were held last summer to provide professional development and that the proceedings of those sessions are available online. She also noted that professional development will be provided throughout the year.

In response to questions by Ms. Eberhart, Dr. Johnson explained that publishing these proposed amendments will reach out to stakeholders, including parents. He said, “Now that we have a good plan, we can reach out to stakeholders and make adjustments to this document. We will be addressing a timeline and will provide the Board with one at a future meeting.”

In response to a question by Dr. Gates, Ms. Olszewski said that the C3 Standards were generated by a representative group from twenty-six states.

Mr. Smith reported that he attended one of the summer academies and was quite impressed. He urged that the work being done at the academies be shared with the Board. Dr. Johnson offered to provide the Board with a list of the conference sessions from last summer’s academies.

Ms. Diaz said, “Thank you for this. In today’s complex world, this is heartening. It is relevant. This may save us as human beings.”

Upon motion by Mr. DeGraffenreidt, seconded by Mr. Smith, and with unanimous agreement, the Board granted permission to publish COMAR 13A.04.08 Program in Social Studies. (In Favor – 10)
COMAR 13A.07.09 EVALUATION OF TEACHERS AND PRINCIPALS (ADOPTION)

The Superintendent introduced Dr. Jack Smith, Chief Academic Officer, to review the proposed regulations and discuss the comments received. She recommended Board adoption of COMAR 13A.07.09 Evaluation of Teachers and Principals, as modified.

Dr. Smith reported that comments were received from the Baltimore City Public Schools (BCPS), the Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) and the Maryland State Education Association (MSEA) and that there were two overriding issues expressed:

1. Approval versus compliance
2. Deletion of the “highly effective” category in the rating system

He explained that issue #1 has been addressed since MSDE has a long history of using a Technical Assistance model to work collaboratively with local school systems during any approval processes. He also explained that the three-tier rating system currently in placed was designed and recommended by the Maryland Council for Educator Effectiveness (MCEE) and is based on the collaborative work of many stakeholders focused on effective practice. He also noted that several concerns were addressed prior to publication.

Several Board members complimented Dr. Smith on his work and that of his staff.

Dr. Lowery noted the importance of having a threshold of rigor.

Mr. DeGraffenreidt said, “We want our students to get a world class education.”

In response to a question by Ms. Eberhart, Dr. Smith said that this regulation will not sunset. Ms. Eberhart proposed that the regulation sunset at the end of two years. Mr. DeGraffenreidt asked, “If we went with your proposal, who would benefit?” Ms. Eberhart said, “I believe the students, because we don’t have the data to show if this works.” Mr. DeGraffenreidt said, “embedded in this is the understanding that data will be used to go forward.” Ms. Ebert said, “I want a guarantee that student growth should be a measure. I would feel more comfortable.”

Dr. Lowery said, “We have all 24 districts informing our work. We have a legislative mandate to use state data. We have documented what this process will be and how we will use the data we glean. If we say we are going to do something, we will do it.”

Dr. Dukes said, “We received comments from two large school systems and MSEA and at no point did any of them mention sunset. That does say something about the collaborative nature of our work.”

Ms. Eberhart also noted that she strongly supports a four-tier rating system and the flexibility for LEAs to determine that rating system for themselves.

Dr. Finan, who was a member of the MCEE, explained that there were representatives from across the state and that all agreed on the three-tier system. She said, “That was not a point of contention at all.”
Dr. Lowery said, “In order to meet the mandate of the ESEA Waiver, we cannot change this. We are setting the floor. People can add tiers.”

Upon motion by Dr. Finan, seconded by Mr. Smith, the Board adopted COMAR 13A.07.09 Evaluation of Teachers and Principals, as modified. (In Favor – 9; Ms. Eberhart opposed)

ANNUAL TEACHER PRINCIPAL EVALUATION REPORT: REAL PROGRESS IN MARYLAND

The Superintendent introduced David Volrath, Teacher Principal Evaluation Planning and Development Officer, and asked him to discuss the annual Teacher Principal Evaluation (TPE) Report: Real Progress in Maryland, and recommendations gathered and compiled by the Mid-Atlantic Comprehensive Center@WestEd (MAC@WestEd) in the spring of 2014.

Mr. Volrath thanked his team and introduced William Slotnik, Executive Director, Community Training and Assistance Center, to discuss the evaluation report and recommendations.

Mr. Slotnik said, “You have put in a foundation of real instructional improvement.” He noted that he has worked with twenty-five states and found that Maryland is a state that understands what real progress means. He reported that a survey was conducted and that 23 of the 24 school systems responded with consistent findings. He said the overall perceptions were that frontline educators are largely supportive of the TPE System and that where the system was piloted and training was substantive the perceptions were more positive. He also stated that where there is a high level of communication between the LEA and the educator association/union, there is a more positive response to TPE.

Mr. Slotnik also noted that frontline educators are unaware of the support coming from the Department and that while principals have the best sense of what’s going on in the school; the key challenge is to improve the instructional dialogue between school leaders and teachers.

He discussed common issues in implementing TPE which highlighted the need for two-way communication. Educators felt that there were unrealistic timelines but blamed the U.S. Department of Education for this problem. He said, “This is unprecedented.” He suggested the need for a mechanism to hear from teachers and principals. Mr. Slotnik said that principals reported on the support that they need and that the responses to whether there is a vehicle from which to get support varied greatly among districts and schools. Dr. Dukes urged the need to report these findings to the superintendents.

Mr. Slotnik reported on teacher observations and noted that although teachers and supervisors are positive about using observations in the TPE process, teachers indicate that the observation process varies widely between and within schools.

He reported that teachers liked the idea of measuring student growth and teacher practice since it increases collaboration on behalf of instruction. He said the key issue is many teachers want more input on how student learning objectives (SLOs) are crafted. He said, “They need more help in understanding what a high quality SLO looks like. Quality matters.”
Mr. Slotnik said that the areas of recommendation are about strengthening quality and building on what is being done. He said, "All of the districts want to do well."

Mr. DeGraffenreidt said that the report centers on focusing on the local level and the support to the teachers. He asked if the data tells us about the relative success occurring in some districts. He asked, "Are local school boards engaged in keeping superintendents accountable for the allocation of resources?" Mr. Slotnik said that needs to be a high priority in some of the school districts. He said that the districts making progress are putting their instructional muscle with teachers and principals.

In response to a question by Ms. Eberhart, Mr. Slotnik said that the Board will receive the data on evaluations at the next meeting.

Dr. Gates said that he is heartened by the call to develop interactive statewide constituency building and inter-district learning. Mr. Slotnik said that districts want to know that there are protocols being used from district to district. He said one of the recommendations is to develop a statewide site where people can look at SLOs and make the site accessible at the local level.

In response to a question by Mr. Priester, Mr. Slotnik said that district leaders will need to look at the results in this report to work on increasing instructional dialogue among colleagues.

In response to a question by Ms. Diaz, Mr. Volrath said that the report will be disseminated to superintendents and posted online. In response to another question by Ms. Diaz, Mr. Volrath said that teacher and principal training programs are a big part of this and that this report will impact conversations. Dr. Lowery suggested a meeting between the State Board and the Maryland Higher Education Commission (MHEC) to discuss the data. She said she is going to meet with the Commissioners in October and could arrange a meeting with the State Board.

In response to a question by Ms. Staton about disaggregating the data by school districts, Dr. Lowery said that the disaggregated data will be provided to superintendents for discussion at their next meeting.

In response to a question by Dr. Gates, Mr. Slotnik said, "there has been a major change in the State. People want guidance from MSDE except when they don’t. They feel you are all going to succeed or fail together. The stakes are very high. They are looking for you to support them."
