La luna parece cambiar/las fases de la luna

Target Language: Spanish	Grade Level: 1
Proficiency Level: Junior Novice Low – Junior Novice Mid
Context and Storyline: The teacher begins this module by reading Eric Carle's book, Papá, por favor, consígueme la luna. * As the children access this piece of literature and learn key words and expressions in the book, they become motivated to explore the changing phases of the moon and the moon's relationship to the sun and the earth. The teacher will guide children to understand the phases of the moon and help them figure out why the moon seems to look different to us at different times. The lessons will guide students through various hands-on experiments and activities, including a light bulb/ ball experiment, and a cookie project. In the process, especially through their own observations of the moon, children will obtain facts about the phases of the moon, learn how to make observations, and discern patterns of natural objects in the sky. At the end, besides making their own science journal about their learning experiences, students will go back to Papá, por favor, consígueme la luna and identify different phases of the moon during the story. They will also reflect upon their own learning experience throughout this module. *Papá, por favor, consígueme la luna is used with permission from Eric Carle Studios.
Enduring Understanding: Students will understand that because objects may appear to be different than they really are, and that they need to investigate before drawing conclusions.
Essential Questions: What does the moon look like? Why does the moon look different at different times?
Module Duration and Lessons: Five 30-minute lessons Depending on the length and frequency of classes per week, the five lessons in this module could be taught during a period of three to five weeks. On the average, each lesson may be taught over the course of one week, with 30-minute classes, three to five times per week. Lesson 1 – Papá, por favor, consígueme la luna. (Engagement stage or introduction) Lesson 2 – Así se ve la luna a diferentes horas. (Exploration stage for main events) Lesson 3 – Si la luna fuera de galletas (Explanation stage for main events and practice) Lesson 4 – Podemos ver la luna en el cielo. (Elaboration stage for summary and review) Lesson 5 – Mi libro de la luna (Evaluation stage for assessing student learning outcomes)

Performance Assessment
Interpretive and Presentational Task
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students re-create and read their own version of Papá, por favor, consígueme la luna. • Students walk around to view each others' mini- books. • Each student will select another student's mini-book to read illustrated pages to the class.
Interpretive Task
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will create their own Diarios de la luna that will be shared in a Gallery Walk.
Interpersonal Task
Students will be paired and interview each other about their Diarios de la luna using the prompts provided.
Presentational Task
Working in pairs, students will present the findings from the interviews with their fellow "scientists."

- LCD projector
- USB microphone
- Speakers
- Pocket chart or magnets to hold photos for display
- Paper plates (shown in Teacher Resource 3a) (one for model and one per student)
- Chocolate cookies with white cream filling, preferably miniature-sized, (at least four per student) or regular chocolate cookies with a can of vanilla frosting
- Optional, if necessary: gluten-free cookies
- Craft sticks (one per student)
- Lamp, with shade removed and picture of sun taped to it
- Tape
- Ball (for moon model), with face drawn or taped on one half
(OR a softball or orange with one side marked to indicate one fixed side of the moon)
- Permanent marker or pen, for drawing face on ball
- Paper clips or small plastic zip bags for pre-cut moon phase pictures (Teacher Resource 2e)
- Glue sticks
- Several consecutive months' calendars with moon phases included (1 set for each group of 4 students)
- Colored pencils or crayons (yellow, black, gray)
- Paper
- Self-adhesive labels (4 per student)
- A large blank calendar for recording the moon's phases
- Folders (one per student) to retain Worksheets/Resource Sheets 1a, 2d, 3b, 3c, 4a, and 4b for assembly into Mi diario de la luna at the end of the module
- Materials of your choice for assembly of Mi diario de la luna such as hole punches, yarn, brads, etc.

La luna parece cambiar/las fases de la luna

Note:

Record the story so that students can read the book independently and repeat after it, similar to “read aloud activities” for elementary students. We recommend that teachers establish a recording station in the classroom. When appropriate, find time during Lessons 2-4 so that students can review and practice reading along with the recording.

Extension:

In Lessons 3 and 4, find time for groups of students to record their own reading of the book to be shared with the class.

STEM Background for Teachers

The Solar System

- Our solar system includes the sun, planets and their moons, comets, asteroids, and meteoroids. Beyond our solar system are stars and galaxies. Space stretches beyond our solar system for at least 100 sextillion kilometers (the numeral 1 followed by 23 zeros!)
- The sun is a star at the center of our solar system. It is made of fiery hydrogen gas. It produces heat and light. Its heat and light travel 150 million kilometers through space to Earth. Everything in our solar system revolves around the sun and everything is kept in orbit by the pull of the sun’s gravity. The sun rotates on its axis and completes one rotation in 25 days. One rotation of the earth around the sun takes 24 hours.

Earth's Rotation

- The earth rotates on its axis every 24 hours. The earth’s axis is an imaginary line that passes through the center of the earth from the North Pole to the South Pole.
- One day equals one rotation of Earth. Half of the earth faces the sun; this half is daytime. The other half of the earth faces away from the sun; this half is nighttime.
- The earth rotates from west to east. This makes the sun, moon, and stars look like they are moving from east to west. The sun, moon, and stars rise in the east and set in the west.

Daylight

- In the Northern Hemisphere, the shortest amount of daylight is on the first day of winter (December 21). The longest amount of daylight is on the first day of summer (June 21). Places farthest from the equator have the longest amount of daylight. However, in the Southern Hemisphere, places farthest from the equator are in darkness the longest. On June 21, the area around the North Pole has 24 hours of daylight and the area around the South Pole has 24 hours of darkness. At the equator, daylight and darkness are about equal.
- The length of daylight changes during the year. From June 21 to December 21, the days grow shorter; and from December 21 to June 21, the days grow longer. This is caused by the Earth’s tilt on its axis and its revolution around the sun.

Moon Phases

- The shape of the moon looks different each night. These changes are called the moon’s phases. The moon is shaped like a golf ball; it never changes its shape. The moon does not have any light of its own. We see the part of the moon that reflects light from the sun to The earth, and this changes with the movement of the moon. The moon rotates on its axis and revolves around the earth. One rotation and one revolution take the same amount of time, about 28 days.

World Language – STEM MODULE COVERSHEET
La luna parece cambiar/las fases de la luna

- The shape of the part of the moon that reflects light depends on two things - the moon's position in its orbit around Earth and the position of the sun. The same phase of the moon repeats about every $27 \frac{3}{4}$ to $29 \frac{1}{2}$ days. In some phases, you can see the moon during part of the day.
- Phases:
 - First quarter – 7 days before a full moon, the moon looks like a half circle
 - Full moon – moon look like a full circle
 - Last quarter – 7 days after a full moon and the moon looks like a half circle

T: (Dim or turn off the lights in the room. Try to make the room as dark as possible.)

T: (Turn on the “sun” lamp.) ¡Qué brillante! ¡La luz del sol es muy brillante!

Students respond.

T: Sí, el sol es brillante. Sin la luz del sol, es oscuro. (Turn off lamp.)

Ahora, díganme, ¿es brillante o es oscuro?

Students respond.

T: (Turn the lamp back on.) Ahora, vemos el sol otra vez.

T: (Point to the picture of the earth on your forehead.) Vamos a hacer un experimento. ¿Qué soy yo? ¿Soy el sol o la tierra?

Students respond.

T: Necesito un voluntario.

T: Michael, tu cabeza es ahora la tierra. (Put the picture of the earth on student's forehead.)

T: Michael, sujetla la bola también, esa es la luna. Extiende tus brazos hacia el sol (la lámpara) y un poco encima de tu cabeza. Recuerda que tu

The moon also rotates on its axis and revolves around the earth. (The moon's rotations are in sync with the earth's rotations, which is why we only see one side of the moon.) Performance Assessments
Interpretive and Presentational Task
Mi libro Papá

• Using a Gallery Walk strategy, instruct students to walk around to view each others' Papá books.

World Language – STEM MODULE COVERSHEET

La luna parece cambiar/las fases de la luna

- Each student will select another student's book to show and read the illustrated pages to the class.

Interpretive Task

Mi diario de la luna

- Using a Gallery Walk strategy, instruct students to walk around and review the diarios.
- After the allotted time, pair students for the Interpersonal Task.

Interpersonal Task

Partners will take turns interviewing each other about their diarios, using the prompts from Worksheet 5c. Model the interview several times with volunteer students.

- ¿Cuál es tu parte favorita de tu diario?
- ¿Cuál es tu fase favorita de la luna?
- ¿Qué le vas a enseñar a tu familia?
- En tu calendario, ¿cuántas veces viste la luna?

Rubrics for assessment:

Distribute and display Worksheet 5b.

Review the instructions. Model one example.

Assist students as needed.
