-Purva Hukmani completed the Desire2Learn – MSDE's Online Mentoring - course with a 98 percentage grade. The course is especially designed to assist educators new to online learning to master e-course tools and strategies. Not only is her family proud of her academic achievement, but her colleagues are, as well. Purva still continues to strive to set a positive example for her children and grandchildren, and strives to offer encouragement to all Maryland public school students within her reach. – Submitted by R. Ziegler

-The Division of Library Development and Services won an award during the Annual MACO Convention held in Ocean City, in August, for the best statewide exhibit. ## Did you hear?

-Max Mutchler, spouse of Julie Ayers in the Youth Development Branch, was invited to the White House on October 7, 2009 to help facilitate a Star Party for President Barack Obama, his family, and approximately 140 area middle school students.

The stargazing event was held to promote the importance of science and technology during what is currently the International Year of Astronomy. Max, a scientist who works on the Hubble Space Telescope and does a great deal of volunteer educational outreach regarding astronomy with youth, along with 11 other astronomers from across the country, was asked to bring his personal telescope and his enthusiasm for science to the White House lawn that night. He had a great time helping introduce students to the night sky, and having Astronaut Buzz Aldrin look through his telescope as well. – Submitted by V. Diggs

-Rose Bailey, in Region V-Catonsville Office of DORS, is pleased to announce that her son, Marvis Robinson, Jr., graduated this year from Morgan State University with a Bachelors Degree in Information Technology Systems. Tucker

Dionne, a member of Coppin State University's Office of Information Technology (OIT), is the recipient of the "Technology All-Star" Award presented by Career Communications Group Magazine and IBM Corporation. ### DWTS Comes to MSDE

-Nancy Grasmick, Derrick Lockley, and Andrew Topps are three of the reasons why the Maryland Charities Campaign kick-off was so successful. Before the campaign comes to a close, let's take a moment to recognize our "Dancing With the Stars" participants, not merely for the giving of their time and training efforts, but also for their willingness to perform live for a very worthy cause—helping those in need.
