MARYLAND ASSOCIATION OF BOARDS OF EDUCATION OVERVIEW

Dr. Grasmick introduced Ms. Sandra Barry, President of the Maryland Association of Boards of Education (MABE) and Dr. Carl Smith, Executive Director of MABE to provide an overview of the organization and the services it provides.
Ms. Barry reported that MABE is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary this year and noted that she has given presentations to all of the member boards of education in Maryland. She noted that Maryland is one of the few states which include its State Board as a member. Ms. Barry reported on the four goals of the organization which include advocacy and governmental relations, professional development, member services and public outreach and community relations. She described the various activities and benefits provided to members and the challenges for the future for boards of education and public education in general.

Dr. Smith described the Green Street Coalition, a group of education advocates who lobby for education legislation. He also reported on the various programs, services, and partnerships that MABE seeks out for its members such as web-based paperless board meetings, web-based data-driven decision-making tools, web-based school-to-parent communications tools and web-based student payment services.

Ms. Barry described the assistance MABE provides to local boards which are searching for new superintendents. She said that MABE understands the unique nature of the education program in Maryland. She thanked the State Board for their time and interest in MABE and reported that Pat Gordon of Howard County will serve as the new MABE President for the coming year.

Dr. Grasmick thanked Ms. Barry and said that she attended the MABE Summer Workshop where she noted a great deal of interest in the MGT Evaluation of the use of Thornton dollars for education. She noted that there will be two workshops at the MABE Conference in Ocean City to provide information on the final report of MGT. She explained that the final Report will be sent to the Governor and the General Assembly in December.

Dr. Smith urged Board Members to attend a new board member orientation being held in December at the BWI Marriott Hotel.

Dr. Pizzigati thanked Ms. Barry for her service as President of MABE and encouraged her State Board colleagues to attend MABE conferences to get to know their local board counterparts.

Mr. DeGraffenreidt thanked the presenters for their time and dedication to education.

FINANCIAL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Dr. Grasmick introduced Mr. Steve Brooks, Assistant State Superintendent, Division of Business Services, to brief the Board on the statutory financial reporting requirements for local school systems and the status of financial reporting to date. She requested that the State Board grant her the authority to notify the Comptroller to withhold ten percent of the November State aid payment and each subsequent installment for any school system that is not in full compliance with the financial reporting requirements.

Mr. Brooks explained that there have been some significant changes to the fiscal accountability for local school systems and reported that school systems have been very responsive to the requirements. He noted that only two systems have been sanctioned with the withholding of State funding in the past and that no money was withheld last year.

Upon motion by Dr. Finan, seconded by Dr. Dukes, and with unanimous agreement, the Board granted the State Superintendent the authority to notify the Comptroller to withhold ten percent of the November State aid payment and each subsequent installment for any school system that is not in full compliance with the financial reporting requirements. (In Favor – 11)

COUNTY LIBRARY CAPITAL PROJECT GRANT

The State Superintendent reminded the Board that they approved the proposed FY 2010 State Capital Budget in July. She explained that included in that Budget, as required by State legislation, was $5 million for the County Library Capital Project Grant Program. She introduced Ms. Irene Padilla, Assistant State Superintendent, Division of Library Development and Services; and Ms. Mary Baykan, Director, Washington County Free Library, to discuss the programs and the projects that the Department is recommending for funding in FY 2010. She requested Board approval of the list of public library projects recommended for funding in the State’s FY2010 Capital Budget.

Ms. Padilla explained that the Department ensures that counties receive funding regardless of size and financial abilities. She reported on the application and review processes and noted that fifteen requests were received. She indicated that one of the submission was for an ineligible project. Ms. Padilla explained that all projects require a fifty percent match by local government.

In response to a question by Mr. Ewing, Ms. Padilla explained that some county projects have received funding in past years and, therefore, are approved for a partial grant in FY2010. She also explained that some library buildings require major reconstruction and are, therefore, given higher priority than those with minor needs.

In response to a question by Ms. Garcia, Ms. Padilla said that her staff works with staff of the Department of Budget and Management to meet State standards for quality and efficiency. She also noted that the Governor has mandated that departments work to reduce energy consumption in State buildings.

Dr. Grasmick reported that the State has a Division for Capital Improvements which is working to set up an efficient system for monitoring all Capital Improvements. Ms. Padilla introduced and acknowledged the work of staff members Renee Croft, Library Capital Projects Manager and Susan Paznekas, Planning Specialist.

Upon motion by Mr. Ewing, seconded by Mr. Goodall, and with unanimous agreement, the Board approved the list of Public Library Projects recommended for funding in the State’s FY2010 Capital Budget. (In Favor – 11)
OVERVIEW OF THE DIVISION OF EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Dr. Grasmick said that Maryland is the only State in the nation that has transferred all of its early childhood programs to the Department of Education. She reported that in response to requests by several Board Members to devote time to outline various programs included in the Department’s Budget, she asked Dr. Rolf Grafwallner, Assistant State Superintendent, Division of Early Childhood Development, to provide an overview of his Division and its scope of responsibilities.

Dr. Grasmick also reported that the Board will be asked to recognize the first Maryland county to have all of its early learning programs accredited by the State. She noted that Dr. Grafwallner will also review the draft of the Preschool for All Business Plan which was developed in response to a recommendation contained in the Report of the Task Force on Universal Preschool Education.

Dr. Grafwallner reported that Maryland has gained a reputation for providing excellent programs in early childhood education. He noted that since 2001, Maryland has conducted a kindergarten assessment for all students entering public school. He also noted that a Voluntary State Curriculum (VSC) was established for pre-Kindergarten programs in Maryland. Dr. Grafwallner reported that the Department development a three-year Strategic Plan which outlines the following three goals:

1. Provide a high quality workforce;
2. Provide standards in all programs; and
3. Work with parents and guardians to stress the importance of quality early childhood education.

Dr. Grafwallner reported that in 2007 a report on school readiness showed that significant gains in all skills have been made by students entering kindergarten. He also reported that workforce development in early childhood development is a developing field in Maryland and throughout the country.

Dr. Grasmick acknowledged the various partners represented in the audience and the extraordinary staff of the Early Childhood Development Division stating, “These partnerships have been incredible.” She emphasized that these programs begin at birth.

In response to a question by Ms. Garcia about licensing approval delays for pre-school providers, Dr. Grafwallner explained that there is a group of staff members who approve and monitor all programs. He noted that the Department is trying to build a pool of well qualified providers but that there is a huge turnover in this field.

In response to questions by Mr. Ewing, Dr. Grafwallner explained the organizational setup of the Division dealing with State and Federal Programs.

Dr. Grafwallner reported on the various programs in place to reach all communities and parents to ensure that all child care providers have strong parental organizations.
In response to a question by Dr. Walks, Dr. Grafwallner said that there is a screening aspect in the child care approval process which siphons out children who need further evaluation both physically and mentally.

EARLY CHILDHOOD ACCREDITATION – GARETT COUNTY

Dr. Grasmick commended Dr. Dukes and Dr. Allen for the assistance by their community colleges in the credentialing process for Early Childhood Education Programs. She introduced Dr. Wendell Teets, Superintendent of the Garrett County Public Schools, and asked him to speak to the Board about the County’s success in having all of its early childhood programs accredited by the State.

Dr. Teets introduced many supporters and partners attending the meeting and thanked them for their hard work. He reported that four Garrett County schools have Head Start Programs in them and that these programs follow curricula based upon the Voluntary State Curriculum (VSC) ensuring appropriate rigor to the programs. He said that all schools, Kindergarten and pre-Kindergarten, are validated. He described the various professional development programs for school personnel.

Dr. Teets introduced Duane Yoder, Member of the Garrett County Community Action Commission, who reported that over the last six years there has been an enormous amount of collaboration among many organizations in Garrett County. He reported that the Judith P. Hoyer Early Care and Family Education Centers (Judy Centers) were designed to eliminate the achievement gap, specifically at Title I schools.

Mr. DeGraffenreidt stated that “This is an example of best practices.” He and Dr. Grasmick presented a certificate of recognition to Dr. Teets and Mr. Yoder and thanked them and their colleagues in Garrett County for their outstanding leadership and support of early childhood education.

PRESCHOOL FOR ALL BUSINESS PLAN

Dr. Grafwallner reviewed the draft of the Preschool for All Business Plan which was developed in response to a recommendation contained in the Report of the Task Force on Universal Preschool Education presented to the State Board in January. He explained that Maryland’s Prekindergarten programs currently offer publicly funded educational services to all four-year-old children from families with economically disadvantaged backgrounds or who are homeless. He explained that in order to provide universal preschool education, qualified vendors would need to be identified and that the vendors would meet the prekindergarten regulations and the quality benchmarks established by the Task Force. It would also include Memos of Understanding (MOUs) signed with local boards of education to coordinate services for four-year-olds. Those vendors would provide free prekindergarten (half-day or full-day) for low income families whose income is above the income threshold established by the Bridge to Excellence law. He stated that local jurisdictions would be required to establish a review panel to evaluate the application and submit them to the state for funding.

Ms. Walsh recommended that staff investigate programs in other states such as Massachusetts where there have been some excellent results on math standards for PreK students. In response to her question about providing three-year old programs, Dr. Grafwallner said that more programs can be provided depending upon the needs of the community. In response to her question about the lack of successful results of the Head Start Programs, Dr. Grafwallner said that Head Start programs which emphasize the VSC and have certified teachers tend to prepare head Start children better than those who do not. MSDE is working with Head Start providers to improve their services.

In response to Mr. Ewing’s suggestion to allow school systems to eliminate twelfth grade to provide preschool for all, Dr. Grasmick said that she proposed this idea many years ago and that there is a study committee looking at changing high schools to three, four and five year programs.

Dr. Grafwallner acknowledged Margo Sipes, Director of the Downtown Child Care Center and Beatriz Otero, President of Centro Nia.

In response to questions by Ms. Garcia, Dr. Grafwallner explained that the Preschool for All Program would be phased-in over the next decade and that the impact would be considerable. Ms. Garcia stated the need for additional culturally linguistic staff working in the Department.

In response to a question by Dr. Allen, Dr. Grasmick said that there are many students in Maryland who are dually enrolled in high school and community colleges. She reported that Maryland has been ranked number one in the nation for the number of students participating in Advanced Placement Courses. She explained that there are monetary issues involved in these programs which need to be addressed.

Mr. DeGraffenreidt thanked Dr. Grafwallner and his staff for their excellent work and urged him and his Division to look upon the business plan as a strategic document and look for opportunities to tilt resources toward the longer term objectives of the plan. He said the Dr. Grafwallner will know these possibilities when he sees them. Dr. Grasmick acknowledged and thanked the child care partners attending the meeting.

2008 MARYLAND SCHOOL ASSESSMENT RESULTS

Dr. Grasmick introduced Dr. Leslie Wilson, Assistant State Superintendent, Division of Accountability and Assessment, to provide brief remarks on the results of the first administration of the Maryland School Assessment (MSA) in Science for grades five and eight. She said that Dr. Wilson will also present data on student performance for the first administration of the MSAs in reading and mathematics as well.

Dr. Wilson explained that the Science MSA was administered in the Spring of 2008 and that the results are not used to determine Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) of schools. She discussed the first administration comparisons for reading, math and science for fifth and eighth grade students. Dr. Wilson provided graphs depicting the achievement gap among all subgroups for grades five and eight in all three subject areas and provided the following summary:

- Very little difference between Grades 5 and 8
- First administration science scores are about equal to those of reading and stronger than math both administered for the first time in 2003
- Services subgroups as well as African American and Hispanic students are lagging behind
- Achievement gaps are about equal to those from reading and math first administration
- Some evidence that what is tested is taught.

In response to Dr. Walks’ question as to whether a new strategy is needed to increase test scores, Dr. Grasmick said that the challenge is the lack of time in the school day to meet all of the demands of student learning. She noted that the school day has remained the same while learning expectations continue to increase.

Ms. Walsh expressed concern with reading blocks stating that they need to be integrated into other content areas. Dr. Grasmick said that school systems are integrating reading into other content areas but that time constraints are the major issues.

Mr. Goodall urged the Board to have a more in-depth discussion about extending the school day and/or the school year.

Dr. Grasmick explained that middle and high school teachers are highly qualified in content areas but that elementary teachers are generalists and, therefore, science in elementary school is taught along with all other content areas.

Dr. Dukes said, “The message is that minorities are not performing proficiently in science.”

HIGH SCHOOL ASSESSMENTS – UPDATES AND DISCUSSION

Dr. Grasmick asked Dr. Wilson to provide the Board with an update on the status of the reporting of HSA results. She also introduced Dr. Bernard Sadusky, Director of the Bridge Plan and Mr. Scott Pfeifer, Director for Instructional Assessment, to provide an update on the implementation of the Bridge Plan, an additional option for satisfying the HSA graduation requirement. The Superintendent also introduced Dr. Carol Ann Heath-Baglin, Assistant State Superintendent, Division of Special Education/Early Intervention, to brief the Board on the grant support that has been made available to local school systems to assist children with learning disabilities.

Dr. Wilson reported that each year there are approximately 6.5 percent of students who fail to graduate and that this statistic is unrelated to the HSA requirement for graduation. She noted that HSA updates are snap shots in an ever-changing data environment. She explained that HSA data is being received by the Department from school systems daily and provided results as of September 30, 2007. She noted that the update provided to the Board in October will reflect results as of June 2008. Dr. Wilson reported that there will be three more administrations of the HSA prior to graduation in 2009. She explained that as of June 2008, 88 percent of students who have taken all four courses/tests have met the requirements. She noted that while LEP and Special Education students are the groups still working on the requirements, they are experiencing success with Bridge projects.

In response to a question by Mr. DeGraffenreidt, Dr. Wilson said that parents can get information on their child’s progress toward graduation from school counselors.

Dr. Wilson said that the outlook for 2009 is that there is no reason why any student should be denied a diploma based solely on HSA requirements. She also said that there will be students who do not graduate because they have insufficient credits and have not met other State and local requirements.

Mr. Pfeifer reported that a summer pilot of Bridge Projects was conducted and that scoring centers showed that approximately 70 percent of the projects were scored as acceptable and 30 percent were returned to students to make corrections following appropriate feedback. Mr. Pfeifer said that the projects were very challenging to students and that students appreciated the opportunity to meet the requirements with this option. He noted that feedback from teachers was that the projects were of excellent quality and served as excellent instructional tools.

Dr. Sadusky stated that students were very motivated and noted the importance of the student monitors. He reported that county administrators felt that the projects were of high quality and worthy of meeting the criteria for awarding a high school diploma. He said that school system leaders have plans in place to see that all students can complete the necessary projects toward graduation.
Dr. Dukes stated that Board Members are getting negative comments about the inability of certain cohorts of students to meet the requirements for graduation. Dr. Wilson said that the data from school systems is not available yet and that assumptions are being made by parents who are worried about their children. She said, “Schools are getting information out to the parents and students.” Dr. Grasmick said that other states have experienced the same difficulties in raising the bar for students to graduate. She reminded the Board that the HSAs test the minimum knowledge a student must have to graduate rather than what knowledge is necessary to get into college or move into the workforce.

Ms. Garcia expressed her concern about whether passing tests prove that the diploma “means something.” She asked, “What evidence do you have that parents understand this.” Dr. Heath-Baglin said that transition plans address this and are provided to all students with disabilities and their parents.

In response to a question by Ms. Garcia, Dr. Ronald Peiffer, Deputy State Superintendent for Academic Policy, explained the considerable efforts made over the last ten years to provide translated materials and briefings to parents of English language learners.

In response to a question by Dr. Walks, Dr. Wilson said that the Board’s October briefing will provide more data on the number of students who are or are not meeting the requirements for graduation. Dr. Grasmick noted that in previous years there have been up to six thousand students who have not graduated for various reasons. She said that those students often need more than four years to complete high school.

Mr. Wu applauded the teachers and staff for their work on interventions with students who are in need. In response to a question by Mr. Wu, Dr. Grasmick explained that Title I schools receive federal dollars to provide supplemental educational services. She noted that the national level of participation in these services is 19 percent and that Maryland’s participation level is at 70 percent. She said that the Individual Student Identifier tracks students from third grade until graduation. She noted that school systems are placing students in specialized academies over the summer to assist them in meeting graduation requirements.

Mr. Pfiefer, a former principal in Howard County, stated that, as principal, he received information on every student in his school and prepared well in advance for each student’s need.

Dr. Sadusky, a former superintendent of schools, stated that much progress has been made and lauded the classroom teacher for making the difference.

Mr. Ewing stated his skepticism and concern about the data provided and the success of the Bridge program. He said, “This is too rosy a picture. I don’t think we should be doing the HSA in Maryland. I believe that the people who don’t get their diploma will be the same cohort of students.”

Dr. Grasmick reminded him that the statistics show that graduation and dropout rates are the same this year as in past years. She reiterated her confidence that Maryland is on the right path for its students.
Dr. Peiffer reported that the State of Massachusetts, which implemented high stakes testing, has found that the gaps between test scores for all cohorts have been declining over time.

In response to a question by Ms. Walsh, Dr. Wilson said that the HSA administrations have cost approximately $1 million per content area and $1 million for preparation of each test. She said that the overall cost is approximately $20 million.

In response to a second question by Ms. Walsh, Dr. Wilson said that testing has significantly improved instruction for all cohorts of students. Dr. Grasmick said, “The Maryland diploma now means that students need mastery of certain skills. Every student matters now.”

In response to a question by Dr. Pizzigati about communication in the schools, Dr. Grasmick said that Department staff have visited schools and are confident that information is being communicated to parents and students statewide.

President DeGraffenreidt said that he would request that October’s Board discussion on HSAs include insight from superintendents on this issue. He thanked the panel of presenters and his colleagues on the Board for their questions and comments.

STATE BOARD CALENDAR

Upon motion by Dr. Pizzigati, seconded by Dr. Allen, and with unanimous agreement, the Board adopted the list of State Board meeting dates for calendar year 2009. The list is attached to and made a part of these minutes. (In Favor –11)

STATE SUPERINTENDENT’S REPORT

Dr. Grasmick said that she would be ready to bring an Implementation Plan on the recommendations of the African-American Male Task Force to the Board in December.

She reported that in response to a call from the Governor’s Legislative Office, the Department reported that it has no legislative proposals at this time. She asked Board Members to contact her or Rene Spence, the Executive Director for the Department’s Legislative Office, if they have any legislative proposals for the 2009 General Assembly Session.

NASBE UPDATE

Dr. Pizzigati reported on a meeting hosted by the U.S. Army and the National Association of State Boards of Education (NASBE) in which extensive educational and employment opportunities were disseminated. She also reminded members of the annual NASBE Meeting to be held in Arlington, Virginia on October 16-18 and urged Board Members to attend.

FUTURE AGENDA ITEMS

Mr. DeGraffenreidt said that Ms. Walsh’s request for an independent review of the changes to this year’s MSAs and the possible impact on student scores will require that a Request For Proposals (RFP) be issued for prospective bidders. He said that the RFP cannot be issued until after the Technical Report prepared by the testing contractor is received and accepted by the Department. He noted that the Report is not due to be completed until December at which time the scope of the RFP can be discussed. Mr. Ewing asked that a Board member be included in the review panel for the contractor. Mr. DeGraffenreidt said that he feels that the Superintendent and her staff should drive that decision. Ms. Walsh urged that parameters for the independent review be set by the Board.
